

EFPTA Conference 13-14 April 2018, Reykjavík, Iceland

Psychology for everyone: the value of psychology education for young people

PROGRAMME (provisional)

Friday 13 April / Föstudagur 13. apríl

VENUE: The Nordic House / Norræna húsið, Sæmundargata 11, 101 Reykjavík. <http://nordichouse.is>

Note: Programme details are correct at time of publication but may be subject to change.

13.00	Registration
13.45	Conference opens: Welcome by EFPTA President Harpa Hafsteinsdóttir
14.00	Keynote: Why is psychology so fascinating? Reflections on a career as a psychology teacher. Aldís Guðmundsdóttir Teacher & Head of Department (retired), MH college, Reykjavík/Menntaskólinn við Hamrahlíð
14.45	Break for refreshments and Iceland ice-breaker
15.30	Psychology teaching in Europe: Updates A series of short presentations (10-15 minutes each) on current projects and activities in psychology education by teachers and students from various countries.
17.00	End of day programme
Evening	Dinner / social event

Saturday 14 April / Laugardagur 14. apríl

VENUE: Kvennaskólinn í Reykjavík (Kvennó), Fríkirkjuvegi 9, 101 Reykjavík. <http://kvenno.is>

8.45	Arrive, for start at 9.00
9.00	Workshop 1: Choice of workshops on various topics
10.00	Break for refreshments
10.30	Keynote: Is everything you know about psychology wrong? How do myths become accepted in psychology and become central to many curricula, and how can we dispel those myths? Dr Phil Banyard Associate Professor, Head of Psychology Department, Nottingham Trent University, England

11.30	Open space An informal session to meet, chat and get to know colleagues from across the EFPTA member countries
12.15	Lunch
13.15	Workshop 2: Choice of workshops on various topics
14.15	Break for refreshments
14.45	Workshop 3: Choice of workshops on various topics
15.45	Closing remarks and Preview of EFPTA Conference 2020
16.00	Close of conference
Evening	Dinner / social event
Sunday 15 April / Sunnudagur 15. apríl Optional sightseeing / leisure activities	